“Digging for Dirt in Cemeteries”

Presented by: Kristi Sexton

Cemeteries are a great source of information about our ancestors. Join us to learn about the different types of cemeteries and the information that can be found on tombstones and in cemetery records. Kristi Sexton will discuss what you can learn from gravestone symbols, tombstone preservation tips, and how to record what you find digitally and virtually. Websites Find-a-Grave and Billion Graves and their features will be covered.

About the speaker: A genealogist and family historian for nearly three decades, Kristi Sexton is lecturing, teaching and training the next generation of genealogists. She provides family research services through her company, One Leaf Genealogy, currently serves as President of the Orange County California Genealogical Society and is an Adjunct Professor for the Brigham Young University - Idaho Family History Department. She loves genealogy puzzles and cannot wait to help solve them!
